The company also highlights its status as a Disabled Veteran-Owned Small Business with multiple Georgia awards ¹.
- Location & Service Area: While the website theme mentions Gainesville and Buford interchangeably (likely marketing cover cities), the Better Business Bureau lists the primary address as 3541 Haddon Hall Dr, Buford, GA 30519 ⁹. The company serves Buford and surrounding north Georgia areas – explicitly naming Alpharetta, Atlanta, Cumming, Dacula, Duluth, Gainesville, Lawrenceville, Loganville, Winder, etc. ³. We noted several public posts from the owner expressing pride in projects and community, but no public negative comments. (Example excerpt from one FB post: "Concrete Professionals team is STRONG!!! Your project is especially strong because: The old driveway and rear pad were badly cracked. The new concrete is clean, solid, and very well done..." – user comments praise the work.)
- Nextdoor: Local recommendations appear positive. One Nextdoor post (private forum) says: "I can very highly recommend veteran-owned and operated Concrete Professionals. They do a really excellent job, have great after-sales service, and all at a very fair price." (Nextdoor content is not fully accessible, but community sentiment is very favorable.)
- Google Business: We could not directly access Google Maps reviews via the tools, but high Facebook count suggests many Google reviews as well. (Some online lead-generation mentions indicate a "5.0" star rating likely from Google, consistent with BBB/Facebook.)
- Yelp / Angi / HomeAdvisor: No Yelp listing was found for this business. Neither Angi nor HomeAdvisor (formerly known as Angie's List) shows a profile for "Concrete Professionals GA" in searches.
- Trustpilot / Other Sites: No entry on Trustpilot or similar. No complaints or lawsuits found on Google or social media.

Complaints and Legal Records

We found no adverse records. The BBB shows zero complaints against Concrete Professionals ²². The BBB file indicates no disputes or open complaints. A web search yielded no lawsuits or consumer complaints on other platforms. (Given the small number of known reviews, few complaints might exist or go unreported; however nothing was found.)

Licensing and Business Registration

Georgia does not require a special license for basic concrete work (unless part of larger construction permits). We did not find a state contractor license number on the site or BBB profile. The business appears to operate under trade name Concrete Professionals. The BBB and site emphasize the disabled-veteran-owned status and BBB accreditation, but not a specific Georgia license. For large projects, customers should ensure proper permits and bonding are handled, but this is true for all concrete contractors in GA.

The BBB profile indicates "Business Started: 4/17/2017" and "Years in Business: 9" ⁸, suggesting the owner registered or began operations in 2017. No Georgia Secretary of State record was found quickly (the business might be a sole proprietorship under the owner's name, or a "dba").

Trustworthiness & Recommendations

Trust Indicators: Concrete Professionals displays several trust signals: it is AAA-accredited by the BBB (A+ rating) ¹⁹, which requires vetting and a commitment to resolve complaints. The company's branding highlights veteran service and multiple industry awards ¹. Customer feedback is uniformly positive (BBB, social media) with no red flags. The owner publicly engages with the community.

Recommendations for Due Diligence:

- 1. Verify Credentials: If your project exceeds permit thresholds, confirm whether the contractor needs a general contractor license (Georgia law generally requires registration for jobs over $2,500). Ask the company if they hold any applicable local licenses.
- 2. Get Quotes in Writing: Obtain detailed estimates and written contracts. Concrete Professionals does not list pricing or warranty details on its site, so clarify costs, materials, timeline, and any satisfaction guarantees before work begins.
- 3. Check References: Ask for recent project photos or references beyond those on the website. Some customers on Facebook/Nextdoor describe good after-sales service—follow up on that by asking how they handle punch-list issues or post-construction clean-up.
- 4. Insurance: Ensure the contractor is insured (likely, given BBB accreditation, but confirm). Georgia law requires liability insurance for contractors.
- 5. Monitor Work: On-site supervision or periodic check-ins may help ensure work adheres to code and spec. The company's military-style messaging suggests discipline, but every contractor's quality can vary.
- 6. Document Communication: Keep emails or texts about project changes, schedules, payments, and completion criteria.

Overall, Concrete Professionals appears legitimate and well-regarded, especially for decorative and functional concrete projects. The veteran-owned background and BBB accreditation are positives. The lack of negative feedback is encouraging, but as always, obtaining multiple bids and verifying scope will safeguard against misunderstandings.

Methodology

We conducted the following steps:

- Website Analysis: Visited the official site (concreteprosga.com) to extract “About Us”, services, contact information, and any claims. Key pages examined: Home, About Us, Services (Concrete & Stamped Concrete), Contact. This revealed company history (veteran-owned, 2017 start), owner info (Jimmy Buckland), and service descriptions ⁵ ¹.
- Public Records & Registries: Checked the BBB (Better Business Bureau) profile for Concrete Professionals in Buford, GA ²³ ¹⁷. This provided official address, BBB accreditation/rating, years in business, service area, and products/services ¹⁷ ³. We also looked for any state contractor listings, though concrete work is generally unlicensed in GA.
- Review Aggregation: Searched major review platforms: BBB reviews, Google/Maps (via indirect means), Yelp, Facebook, HomeAdvisor/Angi, Nextdoor, Trustpilot. The BBB reviews (Gregory L's review) were documented ⁴. Facebook and Nextdoor references were inferred from search snippets. No Yelp or Angi listings were found.

- Legal/Complaint Search: Searched BBB complaints (none found), as well as web searches for “Concrete Professionals” + “complaint” or “lawsuit” – none appeared. No news or legal filings were identified.
- Data Compilation: Organized findings into categories (About, reviews, etc.), assembled a comparison table of review sources, and noted gaps or assumptions (e.g., lacking Google data, assuming Buford GA from BBB). Citations used: on-site content ([94], [108], [127], [128]), BBB profile ([96], [122]), and review excerpts ([99]).
- Output Formatting: Structured the report with headings and bullet points for clarity. Ensured all factual statements are linked to sources where available. The tables and recommended actions are based on the compiled data.

Sources: Primary sources include the company website and BBB profile ⁵ ¹ ¹⁷ ⁴ . Secondary sources (Facebook/Nextdoor anecdotes) are noted qualitatively. No conflicting information was found, and any missing details (e.g. license number) are explicitly stated as unspecified.
